Please use this guide to help you to access and identify the reading settings so you can customize your reading experience. These directions should be useful whether you are using Libby on a mobile device or on a desktop computer in a web browser.

FINDING AND USING LIBBY'S READING SETTINGS

2. Next, tap or click "Reading Settings" in the menu options.
3. At the top of the menu, tap or click "Done" to apply all of your settings in your eBook. You can also apply your settings by tapping or clicking to the left in the small section of the pane showing your eBook's page.
4. Below "Reading Settings" and "Done", your menu features a small window with sample text and background that change to preview all of your selections as you choose different settings.

5. Below that window for previewing your settings, the “TEXT SCALE” is available for you to customize the font size. Swipe or drag the box on the scale to change the font size. To select a wider variety of font sizes, activate “Include accessibility sizes” by tapping or clicking the toggle

6. The next item down the Reading Settings menu is “LIGHTING”. You may use its options to customize the brightness of the page or background by tapping or clicking “BRIGHT”, “SEPIA” or “DARK”.

7. Next down the menu is the “BOOK DESIGN” setting. With “BOOK DESIGN”, Libby offers selections to change your eBook’s font style, line spacing, and justification with preset options and a choice to access more customizable features.

- The first of those preset options is “Publisher’s Default”. Tap or click on “Publisher’s Default” or the toggle switch nested under it to optimize text for readability.
- Other text present options include:
